What to look out for when you are looking for quality in steel

June15 Brand Movement 0911304

Whatever the size of your project, its success and sustainability both depend on the quality of the steel products you use. But how will you know that the steel products you use are of an appropriate quality? To assure you of quality, sustainability and leadership we at ArcelorMittal South Africa mark and brand our products. Some of these products are Chromadek®, plate, galvanised coil and rebar. Beware of unbranded substandard material which cost you much more in the long-run than you initially believe. Rest assured in the knowledge that ArcelorMittal South Africa's products consistently stand for quality.
